CLARENCE STREIT ANNOUNCED WINNER OF RHODES HONOR

IS UNANIMOUSLY ELECTED

Chosen by Committee of Rhodes Men and Dr. E. O. Sisson After Interview.

Clarence K. Streit, a student in the school of journalism and editor of the Kaimin in 1916, was announced as the winner of the Rhodes scholarship from Montana by Professor Frank Aydelotte of the Boston Institute of Technology at Boston, Mass., Sunday.

The election of Mr. Streit was unanimous. The committee, consisting of two Washington professors, a lawyer from Butte, all three ex-Rhodes men, President E. O. Sisson as chairman and Professor Merriam as secretary, interviewed the four candidates individually for 45 minutes each, and put them through a stiff quizzing. Besides letters of recommendation of each candidate the committee sought and received confidential communications. The record of each man was gone into at length, and wherever the committee found matter that needed investigation it both sought information from the outside and closely questioned the candidate himself.

With the election of Clarence Streit as the 1918 Rhodes scholar for Montana other men in the University who look toward Oxford University as a possible goal should be getting on their running shoes. Next fall, in October, 1920, the scholars will be elected to represent Montana. "The University has the men, and the committee of selection wishes them to enter the competition for election early. We want the two best men here to become candidates. I should be glad to discuss Oxford opportunities with any man who may be interested," announced Professor Merriam this morning. "This year there were two candidates from the University and two from outside it; next year there should be a half a dozen from each."

This committee met at the State University when Streit and the other candidates, Radcliff Beckwith, and two men from Wesleyan University at Helena were interviewed. The appointment was not made public at the time but was given to the Associated Press November 1.

When war was declared Streit enlisted in the 18th Railway Engineers and was sent to France in August, 1917. When he arrived he was transferred to the intelligence section and was attached to the American commission to negotiate peace at Paris, or the first six months of the war. When President Wilson returned to France the second time Streit was stationed as special guard at the president's side.

University Band Manages to Get in Between Yells

The University band, upon its initial appearance at the Whitman-Montana game Saturday encountered opposition in the student cheering.

Several of the band's beginnings were cut short when Yell King Kane silenced them preparatory to the student cheering.

During the interim between halves when the students were enacting a snake dance was when the jazz babies bored their coupe, however. For 10 solid minutes they played all the marches and school songs ever written perhaps, and a few in a class by themselves like "Hall, Hall, the King's All Here."

Postponed Co-Ed Prom Will Be Held Friday

Dashing lieutenants, handsome gobs, cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, football and baseball heroes and little girls will be some of the people at the co-ed prom Friday night.

Stunts will be put on by the women of the four classes and any of the departments or schools that desire to do so. This is a departure from the usual custom of having the sororities and other organizations give the stunts. The Town Girls' league will sell ice cream cones for the Women's Self Government association. The Harmony Jazz orchestra will furnish the music.

Each upper class girl will be held responsible for the presence of her advisee. She is expected to either take her or to see that she has a date.

STUDENTS EARN $5,735

Statistics From Student Secretary Show 219 Jobs Assigned to Students.

A total of $5734.61 was earned during the month of October by students of the University who are working in order to attend this institution. Of this amount $5,056 was earned by students who have regular jobs, the remainder was in payment for odd jobs. There were 171 students on the campus having steady jobs who earned on the average $33.53. Two hundred and nineteen odd jobs were taken care of by the student employment bureau during the past month.

These statistics were compiled by George Shepard, who is in charge of the student employment bureau. He asks that all men and women of the institution who have not yet registered and have work report to him at the registrar's office from 12:45 to 1:15. He also states that all persons desiring jobs or work during the holidays should put in their names at the same time.

At 9:30 the team will be escorted to the Northern Pacific station where the rally will continue until 10 o'clock. Then Coach Bierman orders lights out in the Grizzly car.

The Masquers club, the English department, and the State University are giving money for this purpose.

CON TO DISCUSS R. O. T. C.

There will be a special convocation for men Thursday at 11 o'clock to discuss the R. O. T. C. This meeting was suggested by members of the student body who feel that some action should be taken in regard to the R. O. T. C.

MEN DISCUSS R. O. T. C. AT INFORMAL MEETING

President Sisson Talks to Underclassmen on Military Drill Question.

In an address before the assembled men students of the classes of '22 and '23 yesterday, President E. O. Sisson discussed in an informal way the issues connected with the R. O. T. C.

He said that the almost universal aversion to the resumption of military drill had only become apparent to him within the last two weeks. Also that there would be no attempt on the part of the faculty to compel students to take this course. He reminded the men that the course was instituted at the vote of the students and suggested that a meeting of the A. S. U. M. be called to express the sentiment in some definite form to be presented to the faculty.

This sentiment will take the form of a petition and will be drawn up at convocation on next Thursday at 11 o'clock. The president stated that no meetings of the R. O. T. C. would be held this week, as the military credits committee has not yet completed its work.

WHITMAN BATTLES BRUINS ON WET FIELD TO 6-6 TIE

Varsity Bewilders Missionaries in First Attack and Get Touchdown in Opening Quarter; Opponents Outplay Grizzlies in Final Periods.

Montana 6, Whitman 6.

Fighting gamely all the way, Whitman college football eleven held the Montana Grizzlies to a tie last Saturday on Montana field. The Montana touchdown came in the first quarter after 3 minutes and 17 seconds of play, when after Adams, Brown and Scherck had carried the ball to the Missionaries 12-yard line, Quarterback Keely took the ball over.

Big Flood Comes When Co-Eds See Swede Leave Game

(By Anne Wilson.)

By twos and threes we came to the game wearing pennants and carrying the megaphones that Bill Kane had ordered. After carefully arranging our skirts and patting our hair we settled down to talk about the game.

"No, I don't know anything about football but I think it's terribly exciting."

"Don't you think that Mr. Bierman is awfully good looking? I adore the way he walks up and down in front of that funny bench and looks so important. But the boys say he cusses when he coaches."

"Oh, did we make a touchdown? I was powdering my nose and I didn't see a thing."

"I think the girls should yell but Mary Farrell and those girls are acting silly making so much noise. I don't think it's a bit ladylike."

"Bill Kane looks just like Douglas Fairbanks when he dances around like that."

And Eunice blushed and said the pennants looked so pretty.

Right after the game started "Gus" threw away the leather helmet, he was supposed to wear. And all of us girls knew he was going to be hurt if any one became rough. But Mary Farrell said that any one who could fall 400 feet from a bucking plane should worry about the padded cap.

"Bess, lookit. Quick. See that fellow shimmy. Why he has filtered through the whole line. Say, honey, if he comes to the dance tonight I simply must meet him. I'll bet he dances beautifully."

Of course, the girls all felt badly when any of the men were hurt. They couldn't always understand why the players should rest when they got their necks twisted, but they wept, anyway.

Then Swede got hurt. And he cussed. And one of the co-eds said, "Isn't that just like a man?"

But most of us pulled the weeps and our hankchiefs. For we knew that Montana's best and gamest and truest was going out of a game for the first time in seven years of gridiron battles. And most of us didn't hear a man cuss at all. We heard a wounded Grizzly that refused to leave a struggle, that wanted to fight for the joy of fighting and fight and fight.

And son the field other Grizzlies were carrying on the fight. We saw them push the blue sweaters down the field. They were sore, you could see. And they were going to shove them right off the gridiron. But just then some fellow stepped out on the field and began to shoot a gun at them. So every one stopped playing.

He must have been a Whitman player.

And I guess he hit some of our players because the freshmen ran out and carried them off the field.

From then on the team from Walla Walla fought hard, outplaying the Bruins most of the time. The Whitman offense was always dangerous after the first quarter and costly fumbles saved the Montana goal line more than once. The Missionaries crossed the last white mark for a touchdown with but five minutes left to play, tying up the game. Matthews missed goal.

The first quarter was straight football, with both teams relying upon line plunges and end runs. Whitman tried two forward passes in the second quarter, the first working, while Scherck intercepted the second on Montana's five-yard line and punted from danger as the half ended.

The second half saw Montana come back strong for the beginning of the third session. After running the ball well into the visitor's territory Montana lost on downs and the game became purely one of defense for the Grizzlies. Scherck punted repeatedly and prevented a return of the ball by kicking out. Whitman opened up in earnest her forward pass game and stuck to that style of play until the end of the final period.

Dahlberg was taken from the game due to injuries just eight minutes before the final gun. It was the first time in seven years that "Swede" has failed to complete a gain. Montana on her 18-yard line failed to gain in three downs and Scherck punted to the middle of the field.

Smith then caught a pass from Garver for 11 yards and Jones duplicated on the next play with 10 more. Garver lost a yard on a line plunge. Another pass, Garver to Gensel, placed the ball on the 2-yard line and Captain Wiley took it over.

Montana came back at this stage

University Student Played Under Sousa

Homer Parsons, a student at the State University, played under John Philip Sousa in the Great Lakes Naval band in the summer of 1918. At that time there were about 400 instruments in the band.

Sousa's band plays in Missoula, at the Liberty theater, tomorrow afternoon and evening, under the auspices of the state university school of music.

Parsons says that Sousa could pick out an instrument off pitch the merest trifle, and tell the player whether it was sharp or flat, when the average band master could not even detect an error.

Parsons related an incident which occurred while they were playing before a large audience at Recreation Fields. The band was playing one of Sousa's famous marches. As they finished successfully Sousa turned to receive the applause, when suddenly one of the base instruments burst forth with the usual after-beat found in Sousa's marches. The effect was spoiled and the great bandmaster gritted his teeth before the amused audience.

CONGRATULATIONS

The Kaimin, in behalf of the students of the State University congratulates Clarence Streit upon the winning of the Rhodes scholarship.

As a student at the State University, Streit has shown himself to possess those qualities we call Montana's. He thinks clearly, and what is more unusual, fearlessly. He is loyal to those traditions of western pioneers in education, which makes truth the criterion of knowledge.

In Montana's scholar, the aims of the Cecil Rhodes foundation will be well-served. He will bring back with him many of England's best traditions. But he will take with him as an offering to England, all that is best of Montana's ideals.

HARKEN TO THE OYSTERS

There should be a little bit of jazz in every good little student and to carry it still farther all able bodied faculty members ought to be afflicted with spizerinktus. In other words, the spirit of the Elite is what wins football games.

Now, how many of the faculty members really care whether the Bruins win or lose. We know there are some loyal fans among the instructors who will brave any kind of weather to attend the games and root for the Grizzlies. But they are few, these real sports. Now, where are the rest, at pink teas? addressing women's clubs? or writing theses?

The stands haven't been overcrowded this year and we can lay some of the blame on the narrow shoulders of "pepless" faculty members and lackadaisical students. On win the jazz.—5G.

COAL BIN HAS GREATER CAPACITY BY 60 TONS

Work on the new coal bin designed by Professor Charles F. Farmer has progressed rapidly and will be completed by the end of this week. As soon as the machinery arrives it will be installed.

From the time the coal leaves the cars it is not handled by human hands. It is dumped from the self-unloading trucks into conveyers and carried into a large hopper. An automatic stoker regulates the amount of fuel to be used and carries it to the furnaces. The ashes are blown out of the building by a steam jet.

Formerly the University has paid $1200 a year for the hauling of the coal and ashes. The new bin increases the storage capacity 60 tons.

"MAGGIE" CAMPUS PET IN BAD WITH DE LOSS

Maggie Magpie has made herself unpopular. She has made herself so unpopular, in fact, that DeLoss Smith, dean of the school of music, has offered a reward for her skin.

Maggie has taken a decided dislike to Marion Smith, the dean's daughter. Every time little Miss Smith ventures on the campus she becomes the object of Maggie's unpleasant attentions.

Maggie even follows her home, and insists upon establishing herself in Marion's boudoir, much to Marion's distress.

MONTANA ASKS OREGON FOR A DEBATE CONTEST

An Oregon-Montana debate has been proposed to the University of Oregon. They will let us know in the next three weeks whether or not they will enter the contest. Arrangements for debates with Idaho, Utah and Washington State College are practically complete.

The University of Washington has its debate program filled. But they have asked Montana to enter an oratorical contest of western colleges to be held next spring. If Montana enters this contest it will be the first one outside the state she has taken part in.

BRUINS MEET IDAHO IN MOSCOW SATURDAY

GRIZZLIES WILL WORK OUT IN SPOKANE SATURDAY

Gem Staters Have Fast Team But Have Met Three Defeats

Thursday evening the Bruin athletes will make an invasion into the land of the Moscovites, where they will play Saturday. The team will journey to Spokane and will lay over there until Friday night. They will then go to Pullman and stay there until Saturday morning; the reason for this being the lack of hotel accommodations at Moscow. Friday morning and afternoon the varsity will practice in Spokane. They will return in time for classes Monday morning.

According to the sport dope, Idaho has a strong team, although having been beaten the three times that it has played and has not scored a point yet this season. The University of Oregon beat Idaho three weeks ago. Two weeks ago the University of Utah beat them; and last week Washington State College beat them 37 to 0.

The last time that they bucked the Bruin line they won by a score of 14 to 3. That was Thanksgiving day 1917. They won this game by their ability to work the forward pass. The only time that Montana scored was in the third period when Bentz kicked a field goal from placement on the 30-yard line.

Steve Sullivan, Pat Donahue, Vern Clinch and Howard will be allowed to play in this game. This is only by the consent of Idaho. Johnston is ineligible for this game.

The Idaho game will be the second conference game that Montana has had this season. The first was the game with Whitman which was a tie 6 to 6. The next conference game will be with Washington State College here Homecoming Day.

YEARLINGS TO CLASH WITH "KITTEN" FROSH

Freshmen of Rival Institutions to Meet on Gridiron for First Time.

The University freshman team will meet the yearlings from the Montana State College here next Saturday in what promises to be a hotly contested game. The Aggie freshman team is reputed to be as good as the varsity of that institution. Coach Jimmy Gault is giving his Frosh team a gruelling practice every night and he is certain that they will give a good account of themselves Saturday. This will be the first game for either aggregation.

The men that will probably start the game for Montana are: Madsen and Morris, ends; Elliot and Captain MacGowan, tackles; Ramsey and Smithers, guards; Schafer, center; Olsen and Barry, halfbacks; Kirshner, fullback and Lambert, quarterback.

Montana is undefeated in the north-west conference.

While the Aggies have been walloped badly twice in the Rocky mountain alliance, the farmers have yet to make their first touchdown.

Football stock goes up with Sullivan, Howard, Donohue and Clinch back in the game against Idaho Saturday. This also means that Gussie will be back on end against the Muscovites, which will stop a few of those end runs.

"Swede" Leaves Game First Time in 7 Years

"Get out of here! You'll not take my place!" was the greeting of "Swede" Dahlberg to McKoin when the latter went in to take the place of the fighting tackle under orders from Coach Bierman, after the big Grizzly had been temporarily laid out four different times in the Whitman game Saturday.

"Swede" has played in every varsity game since he has been here and the battle with the Missionaries marked the first time in seven years of high school and college football that he has been taken from the game.

He was suffering intensely from an injury to his back and was badly confused by a blow on the head, but he refused to leave the field until he was practically carried off. He had but one thought—to get back into the game and he was restrained only by force from leaving the bench to take his old place on the line. Although it was not until some two or three hours later that he could recognize his friends or remember who were his opponents, he knew there was a place for him on the line.

examination before she will be allowed to play in any of the games.

An athletic committee composed of two girls from each class will meet with Miss Leyda to set the dates for the inter-class games and to decide whether the games will be played on a percentage or elimination basis Thursday at 4 o'clock. Today, Miss Leyda and a committee of one girl from each campus organization that intends to have a team in the inter-organization tournament meets to decide the same points about the inter-organization games.

WOMEN TO HAVE PART IN VARSITY MARATHON

Runners to Draw for Sororities They Will Represent in the Contest.

Gloom clouds are gone.

A path of sunshine is taking the place of the muddy road formerly anticipated by the long distance speed hounds who are to plow five miles through snow, mud and wind, over hills and fences in the University's first cross-country run.

The smiles blew in last night. Coach Schreiber pulled the bright idea. This is it.

Each women's fraternity will be represented in the race. The marathon sprinters will draw for the cause they are to champion. There will probably be two or three athletes for each fraternity.

The final count will be made on a percentage basis. In case the partner of the man who finishes first drops out of the race or finishes down in the list his fraternity will not win. First place will count one point and so on down the line. The fewest points win. Thus if two men finishing first and fourth represent the same fraternity they will have five points.

Since Coach Schreiber's announcement that this arrangement is to take the place of inter-departmental schedule the turnout has been enthusiastic.

Sixteen men are taking the long run daily under the direction of "Spike" Baker, a veteran distance and varsity letter man. Baker is the probable favorite in the big race on Homecoming day.

The aspirants to the marathon title will be taken out to the Buckhouse bridge or that vicinity in cars. The course will probably follow the Bitter Root road for a ways then shift off to the east over the foothills south and west of Pattee canyon and north to the University campus.

The winner will break the tape in front of the bleachers on Montana field.

The following men are booked for the big event: Baker, Holroyd, Brady, Austin, Joy, Carnell, Howard, Hobart, Toulouse, Thomas, Stevenson, Lewis, Hatch, Grant, Duffy, Harpole.

Albert Cramer, who has been scaling for the forest service on the Harry Lachen sale of the Bitter Root forest, has returned to Missoula and resumed his work in the forest school.

BARNETT and HENRIKSON The Store on the Corner

PLAY IT SAFE At the Whitman game just take a look around and "size up" the boys that are wearing smart new overcoats. Look for the smartest coat you ever saw, and it is an even money bet that it is a Ford or an Adler Rochester and it came from Donohue's.

Ford Overcoats Are overcoats with the quadruple guarantee and have more pep, style and go to them than any other line of coats you have EVER seen. This same snap and style characterizes all of our clothes this season. The college man, in search of the right kind of clothes that combine style, fit, comfort and durability with moderate price, can get entire satisfaction only at Donohue's. Our guarantee of satisfaction goes with every sale, and if our merchandise fails to give the utmost in wear and comfort, we are ready to "make it good."

GOVERNMENT OFFERS COTS AND BLANKETS

May Be Obtained at Reduction in Price, Says Professor Spaulding.

There is a good chance for sororities, fraternities and organizations on the campus who are in need of cots or blankets to get such articles at a greatly reduced price from the government stores left here after the S. A. T. C., according to Professor T. C. Spaulding of the forest school.

The University has already made arrangements with the government to obtain cots and blankets for the men's and women's dormitories. Professor Spaulding said he had taken up the matter of supplying campus organizations these articles with Lieutenant Colonel Cron but the latter had no authority to permit the sale of the goods. However, he stated that if the organizations desiring bedding or cots put in their orders at once, a list of the articles wanted will be sent to the war department with the request to authorize their sale.

Such orders are to be submitted to Professor Spaulding or Commandant Cron. The goods on hand here are mostly salvage stuff according to Mr. Spaulding and for that reason will be sold for much less than their value.

CLARENCE STREIT WINS RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

ident's home. He was discharged from the army after twenty-two months' service overseas.

Streit is a graduate of the Missoula county high school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Streit, 635 Brooks street. He will probably leave for Oxford college some time next month.

Sixty-three names were announced by Professor Ayeldotte. This year the number chosen was 64 instead of 30 that would have been chosen for the last two years but for the war. The sixty-fourth, from the University of Michigan, has not yet been selected. After next year the quota will be 32 men a year. Competition was keener than at any other time in the 15 years since the scholarship began.

A Rhodes scholarship amounts to approximately $1500 a year, and is tenable for three years, subject to the continued approval of the College at Oxford of which the scholar is a member.

Two scholarships are assigned to each state. Since it is tenable for three years, there will be one year out of every three in which there will be no election.

A candidate to be eligible must be a citizen of the United States for at least five years, and unmarried by the first of October of the year for which he is selected, have passed his 19th and not have passed his 25th birthday; by the first of October of the year for which he is selected have completed at least his sophomore year at some degree-granting University or College in the United States.

MERRIAM NAMED CHAIRMAN CONVENTION COMMITTEE

Professor H. H. Merriam, head of the English department, has been appointed chairman of the convocation committee. The other members are Mrs. K. W. Jameson, Professor DeLoss Smith and Mr. L. Simes. Mr. Maurice Dietrich was added to the committee at the request of Mr. Merriam. Mr. Merriam has asked the student council to appoint 8 students from which the present committee will select 4 to be regular members of the convocation committee. Mr. Merriam has the names of 13 possible speakers. He says that the only difficulty in obtaining speakers is the expense. The University has to pay a man from $50 to $100 to come here and make one speech. Mr. Merriam thinks the students ought to share the expense and has asked the student council to consider the matter.

At the convocation hour, 11 o'clock on Thursdays, the bell in the tower will ring.

Next Thursday separate convocations for men and women will be held.
